Bio

Shayna Eagle's more than fourteen years of experience representing both plaintiffs and defendants in construction defect and other complex litigation matters has made her a well-rounded lawyer with a diverse skill set. Shayna's litigation practice at Barker Martin focuses on residential and commercial construction litigation.

Shayna is very invested in each of her cases. Because the outcome is important not just to the client – but to her as well – Shayna makes every effort to achieve the best possible result through diligence and professionalism.

Shayna was recognized by her peers in Oregon Super Lawyers as a "Rising Star" in Construction Litigation continuously from 2015 through 2021.

Apart from her work, Shayna enjoys spending quality time with her family, staying physically active, and relaxing in the serene countryside.
